Please join us in honoring the 2015 First Citizen, Nan Henriksen, successful business woman, mother and civic activist. Clark County has truly benefitted from her lifetime of public service. Her vision and leadership through the decades has shaped the government and the socioeconomic fabric of our community.

The annual First Citizen award, presented since 1939, honors a Clark County resident who has modeled the attributes of good citizenship through leadership, action, civic pride, community service and has given time, self and resources.

The award represents community recognition and appreciation for the achievement of the First Citizen on behalf of civic betterment.

This year, lifetime Camas resident, Nan Henriksen is being honored for her many accomplishments and contributions to our community.
